

Bachelor of Science in Biomedical Engineering[†]

Department of Biomedical Engineering

Program Objectives

BME Undergraduate Programs Objectives are to produce graduates:

- Who are effective engineers within biomedical related professions in industry, government, academia or medicine. (Career Goals)
- Who can develop and apply a broad and cross-disciplinary approach to problem solving. (Professional Skills)
- Who can communicate effectively, function in teams, and have developed a sense of social and ethical responsibility. (Socio-Ethical Skills)
- Who continue to develop technical knowledge, awareness and leadership skills that will allow them to address biomedical problems. (Continuing Education)